Client Reviews

“ I had the pleasure of seeing Amy Oliver speak at the Eunoia Medical conference. She spoke passionately about following one's sense of higher purpose with such sincere conviction that was as inspiring as it was invigorating. Amy encouraged everyone in attendance to imagine a life where they wake up feeling excited to do the work they feel called to do. This was not only incredibly affirming for me as I'd been striving to do this in the past five years but also had me instantly excited to encourage my friends and colleagues to do the same! I love her dynamic and energetic approach to inspiring individuals in finding their authentic personal vision as a way to inform their professional growth. She encourages us all to use our self awareness as a gateway to increasing our capacity to work in a way that is deeply satisfying, soul-nourishing and sustainable.

All it took was one phone call with Amy for me to know that she was right for us. We brought her in and she was outstanding. I had several audience members comment to me that they were riveted. Amy had a huge impact on them. We were so impressed that we're bringing her in for another event we're hosting in Toronto.
